On Wednesday, the morning of her birthday, long-time Darien Depot program director Janice Marzano was at Middlesex Middle School with the Depot's SADD chapter for "Kick Butts Day," an awareness program for kids about the dangers of tobacco and cigarettes.

"I couldn't figure out how everyone knew it was my birthday!" she told The Darien Times.

Then someone mentioned the sign. Someone had placed a sign wishing Marzano a happy birthday on the bridge over I-95 in Noroton Heights, not far from the Depot. She had no idea and still doesn't know who did it, but she has her suspicions.

While Marzano was touched by the sentiment, she was a little relieved when some of the kids changed it to "39th" birthday.

"I thought it was a very loving thing to put that sign up — until they put the wrong age on it! I'm sorry we had to fix the sign," Marzano said, laughing.
